

Fact Sheet – Golf Club

Divided into the “Highland Nine” and the “Ocean Nine”, the Clearwater Bay golf course commands a breathtaking backdrop formed by green hills, distant islands and the South China Sea dotted with yachts and junks. This par 70-championship course on the Sai Kung peninsula has been compared to other world-renown favorites like California’s “Pebble Beach”. It’s no wonder the signature hole, number three, was included in the 500 Best Holes in the World compiled by Golf Magazine in conjunction with Asian Golf Monthly and ten other international golfing publications in 2000. In 2005, the Club was renowned as one of the “China 18 Signature Holes”- Hole 3 as well as the “Best Culinary Golf Club” by Golf Digest. Additionally, the Club has hosted numerous local and international tournaments, such as the Men’s and Women’s Open Amateur Golf Championships of Hong Kong, the Omega PGA Championships and the Star Alliance Open. Golf Club members also have access to a driving range and separate Clubhouse that features a well-stocked pro shop, a bar and restaurant, in addition to all the facilities of the Country Club.
